Our company

EVOLUTION AND EXPERIENCE

A company founded in 1978, by two young engineers who had the vision of developing a light and ecological strap, a revolutionary idea at the time.

It was globalization and the increase in competitiveness of companies that prompted the creation of a Packaging Machinery.

In 1989 Plasticband achieved a new milestone: launching its orbital wrappers on the market.

Structure, team, ideas and desire to improve without limits, this is the true driving force of Plasticband and together with you, who makes us move forward day by day being a competitive family business.

Strapping your product is more economical and sustainable,
you will use less material and you will not waste anything.

More Efficient Packaging

Save time

With our wrapping and strapping machines you will optimize your resources and speed up your packaging processes.

Logistics optimization

Strapping the merchandise guarantees that the products are well secured during transport, reduces the risk of sudden movements and facilitates the handling of the load, guaranteeing a smooth delivery.
